VOLUME CVI.--NO. 260. ALEXANDRIA, VA., THURSDAY EVENING, NOVEMBER 2, 1905. PRICE 2 CENTS.

DON'T BE HYPNOTISED,

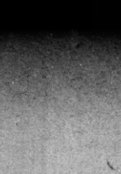
Hoodwinked, hoodooed, or over-persuaded into accepting a substitute for Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription with its record of nearly 40 years, embracing hundreds of thousands of cures of woman's peculiar ailments. It's the only remedy for woman's ills sold by druggists, that is not full of "booze"—poor whisky, or bad alcohol.

A guarantee of $1000 is offered that "Favorite Prescription" contains no alcohol, opium or other harmful drug. Keeps in any climate.

"Favorite Prescription" is a powerful invigorating tonic, and imparts strength to the whole system and to the womb and its appendages in particular. For overworked, "worn-out," "run-down," debilitated teachers, milliners, dressmakers, seamstresses, "shop-girls," housekeepers, nursing mothers, and feeble women generally, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the greatest earthly boon, being unequaled as an appetizing cordial and restorative tonic.

It's an insult to your intelligence for a dealer to attempt to palm off upon you an alcoholic substitute for this world-famed medicine. You know what you want. It's his business to meet that want. When he urges some substitute he's thinking of the larger profit he'll make—not of your welfare.

$50,000 GIVEN AWAY, in copies of The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser, a book that sold to the extent of 500,000 copies a few years ago, at $1.50 per copy. Last year we gave away $30,000 worth of these invaluable books. This year we shall give away $50,000 worth of them. Will you share in this benefit? If so, send only 21 one-cent stamps to cover cost of mailing only for book in stiff paper covers, or 31 stamps for cloth-bound. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.



If out of health, write to old Dr. Pierce. He will send you good, fatherly, professional advice without charge.

Pierce's Pleasant Pellets These sugar-coated little Pellets are the smallest, the easiest to take, and the easiest in the way they act. No griping, no violence, no disturbance to the system, diet or occupation. They are the Original Little Liver Pills, first put up by old Dr. R. V. Pierce, over 40 years ago. They have been much imitated but never equaled. They come in vials, always fresh and reliable; a convenient vest-pocket remedy.

THE REAL TEST

Of Herpicide Is In Giving It a Thorough Tr'al.

There is only one test by which to judge of the efficiency of any article and that is by its ability to do that which it is intended to do. Many hair vigors may look nice and smell nice, but the point is—do they eradicate Dandruff and stop falling hair?

No, they do not, but Herpicide does, because it goes to the root of the evil and kills the germ that attacks the papilla from whence the hair gets its life.

Letters from prominent people everywhere are daily proving that Newbro's Herpicide stands the "test of use."

It is a delightful dressing, clear, pure and free from oil or grease.

Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

Jointache

is one of the main symptoms of that terrible disease called Rheumatism, which makes life a daily torture to many thousands.

HAMLINS

is a treatment which affords a positive cure for rheumatism and allied diseases.

Applied externally, it relieves the pain at once. Taken internally, it cures permanently by purifying the blood of the lactic acid which causes the disease.

Anthony Smith, of Mayville, Ill., says: "I had such severe rheumatic pains in my arm and shoulder that I could neither work nor sleep and was fast losing all hope of cure, when I heard of and tried Hamlins Wizard Oil, two bottles of which performed a perfect, permanent cure." Price, 50c and $1.

PRINCE LOUIS AT ANNAPOLIS.

Prince Louis, on the flagship Drake, accompanied by five other cruisers, arrived off Annapolis shortly after 10 o'clock yesterday morning and exchanged salutes with the American fleet, first firing the national and then the admiral's salute.

When the booming of the guns announced the arrival of the British ships Lieutenant Commander T. P. Magruder, representing Admiral Sands, and Col. Edmund L. Woodside, representing Governor Warfield, went out in a launch to greet his serene highness and to arrange for the exchange of visits.

Prince Louis was prompt to respond, and shortly before noon his launch pulled into the boathouse wharf at the Academy grounds. He was accompanied by his naval aides, Lieut. Gerald Sowerby, Lieut. Walter R. Crosley and Captain Ryon, British naval attache at Washington.

There were received by Admiral Sands. As the Prince stepped ashore a file of marines presented arms and the Academy band gave him two flourishes and struck up a couple of bars of music, to which his rank entitles him. After exchanging formal salutes the Prince and Admiral Sands shook hands warmly, and introductions all around followed. They then entered a carriage and were driven to the Admiral's house, where a formal reception, lasting about 15 minutes, was held.

From there they were driven to the executive mansion, where they were received by Governor Warfield, who was assisted by Secretary of State Oswald Tilghman, Adjutant General Clinton L. Riggs and Col Edmund L. Woodside, of his staff, and Capt. William Biard, United States army.

The reception took place in the Governor's office and was not altogether formal. After introductions, the Prince asked for Mrs. Warfield, and expressed regret that neither she nor the Misses Warfield were present. Governor Warfield laughingly said that the only female member of the family in the city was his six-year-old daughter, Miss Emma Warfield, and the Prince expressed a desire to see her.

She was called, and as the curly-haired little girl tripped into the room, her eyes wide open and not the least abashed by the presence of so many distinguished men, the genial face of the British Admiral lighted, and he greeted her with a smile, saying that he had a son at home who was just her age and who might make a good beau for her.

The Prince impressed everyone with his democratic spirit, and he was particularly pleased with the Executive Mansion, remarking several times that it was beautiful, and incidentally told the Governor that his State provided well for him.

After a few minutes' conversation the Prince and others of the party were invited into the state dining-room, where some of the famous "Admiral Buchanan" punch was served. The cordial manner in which the Prince was received made him feel entirely at home, and he laughed and talked as joyously as a schoolboy.

As he was about to leave the Governor told him that a number of photographers were waiting outside to take his picture, and asked whether he would object. He replied that he was in America to do as Americans did, and he posed, not once, but several times, that all might have a chance.

At 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon Admiral Sands and Gov. Warfield returned the visit, the former being accompanied by his aide, Lieutenant Commander Magruder; the Governor by his staff and Mayor John DeP. Douw and Alderman Frank A. Monroe, of Annapolis. Mayor Douw extended to the Prince the freedom of the city.

Colonel Woodside had a special commission. While at luncheon little Miss Warfield, admiring some beautiful chrysanthemums that were on the table, said she would like to send one to the Prince. Colonel Woodside gallantly offered to carry it, so when the launch pulled out from the wharf a great yellow bloom was seen sticking in his belt.

The chrysanthemum that was sent by little Miss Warfield was received by the Prince with expressions of much pleasure and he said that before he left he would be pleased to see her again.

Governor Warfield and his party reached the Drake just as Admiral Sands was leaving. As the governor came up the gangway he was received by a file of marines and a salute of 17 guns. He was met by the Prince and taken to the ship's cabin, where they remained about 15 minutes.

Herb W. Edwards Injured.

Herb W. Edwards, of Des Moines, Iowa, got a fall on an icy walk last winter, spraining his wrist and bruising his knees. "The next day," he says, "they were so sore and stiff I was afraid I would have to stay in bed, but I rubbed them well with Chamberlain's Pain Balm and after a few applications all soreness had disappeared. I feel that this bottle of Pain Balm saved me several days' time, to say nothing of the suffering." This liniment is for sale by Gibson & Timberman and W. F. Creighton & Co.

Hick's Forecasts.

Rev. Irl Hicks has made the following predictions for the month of November:

The last storm period of October will not have wholly subsided until the 1st and 2d of November. After two or four days of cool, fair and frosty weather, about the 5th change to cloudy and warmer and autumnal rains, probably ending in snow and will pass eastwardly over the country during the 6th, 7th and 8th.

The second storm period is central on the 11th and 12th and the results will be southerly winds, growing cloudiness and more autumnal rains. Watch for threatening conditions; also for the change to colder and clearing, freezing weather at night sure to follow.

The third storm period is central on the 17th. About the time of this period it will be wise to expect some storm and gales. A November cold wave will follow this period.

The fourth storm period is central on the 22d and the 23rd. On and about the 22d and 22rd general storms will be in progress from west to east, with very stormy weater for the balance of the month. It may be set down as almost an absolute certainty that wide and violent disturbances will appear during the last two periods.

The fourth storm period will begin as early as the 25th to 26th. The mercury period is central on the 26th, the date of the new moon perigree. A marked change to the warmer will be advancing from the west by the 26th. General autumal rains will quickly follow. Rains will turn to snow and sleet, and almost a general November blizzard will come with the high barometer, sure to press close behind the last stages of the storms.

Twenty Persons Killed.

Twenty persons were killed and upward of a hundred wounded in the encounters in Warsaw last night between the mobs and the troops. At 10 o'clock a crowd gathered before the town hall and demanded the release of political prisoners. The chief of police liberated 300 who had been arrested during the last few days, but refused to release 12 who were arrested by order of the central government. The crowd then commenced to smash the doors and windows of the town hall, whereupon the chief of police telephoned the barracks for assistance and a force of hussars and Cossacks with a battery of artillery galloped to the scene. The hussars charged the mob, killing 16 persons and wounding 73. Later there was an encounter between infantry and a mob in the bank square, when the troops fired into the crowd, killing 4 and wounding 30. There is a complete deadlock in business and traffic. Even the employees of the drug stores have again gone out on strike.

Terrific Race With Death.

"Death was fast approaching," writes Ralph F. Fernandez, of Tampa, Fla., describing his fearful race with death, "as a result of liver trouble and heart disease, which had robbed me of sleep and of all interest in life. I had tried many different doctors and several medicines, but got no benefit, until I began to use Electric Bitters. So wonderful was their effect, that in three days I felt like a new man, and today I am cured of all my troubles." Guaranteed at E. S. Leadbeater & Sons' drug store; price 50c.

But Few Are Free.

But few people are entirely free from indigestion at this season of the year. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure is not only the best remedy to use because it digests what you eat but because it also enables the digestive apparatus to assimilate and transform all foods into tissue-building blood. Kodol relieves sour stomach, heart burn, belching, and all forms of Indigestion. Sold by W. F. Creighton & Co., 401 King street.

AND VIRGINIA ADVERTISER

THURSDAY EVENING, NOV. 2, 1905.

THE GENERAL ELECTION in Virginia takes place next Tuesday, when the suffragans of the Old Dominion will do what they have done for many years past—roll up a large democratic majority. While there is no anxiety whatever concerning the overwhelming affirmation of the people's nomination last August, there is always a small percentage who suffer from languor at general elections. It is earnestly hoped that every democrat will not only consider it his privilege to vote, but that he will recognize the fact that it is a duty incumbent upon him which he should in no wise shirk. The republicans have put a ticket in the field which was beaten before it was nominated. They have endeavored to raise issues, but they have proven to be flashes in the pan and have practically influenced no one. The school question is regarded by them as the paramount issue, and they pretend to favor the distribution of "free books." The bait remains motionless in the water, as no democratic tax-payer is silly enough to even nibble at it. In the first place the suggestion is impracticable, as it would be equally unprofitable to any one who contributes towards the sustentation of the State government. Should books be distributed to scholars gratis tax-payers would inevitably be called upon to pay for the same by having their assessments increased. It would merely be robbing Peter to pay Paul, while the profligate and thriftless class who pay but a small proportion of taxes, would receive the benefit of the expensive hobby; besides, under the present regime provision is made for every district in the State to provide books for the deserving poor children. There is another feature to such an experiment which should not be forgotten. When the State gets ready to spend thousands of dollars in school books, agents will come to Virginia in clouds and the attempts to induce the board of education to adopt this or that series will be legion. There is no telling what inducements may be offered or what means will be resorted to in order to receive contracts, insinuendoes are indulged in now concerning those to whom educational matters are confided, there is no telling what aspersions may be justly or unjustly expressed under such a regime. The intelligent voter has no need of warning; but those who are thoughtless and who are liable to be led astray should read both sides before they vote.

"VOTE for Hearst and for Good Wages, Good Business and Good Government" is the admonition the boomers of William Randolph Hearst have put on banners, posters and whole pages in New York newspapers. In the quarters where laboring men congregate and along the Bowery many men hail Hearst as their deliverer from all the troubles and evils of the present time. Among the many new departures the people are promised if Mr. Hearst is elected are the following:

Every child will be given a free ride on any street car in that city; fares on street cars will be reduced, landlords will cut the rents, landlords will lower the rents still more every time a new baby arrives in a home; price of gas to be reduced to 50 cents a 1,000, price of beer reduced to 7 cents a pint; Russia will be freed at once; the eight-hour law will be enforced; workingmen will get more pay; we shall have more policemen, more firemen and more street cleaners; there will be no more political bosses; everybody will have a good time.

Every element of the discontented seems to look to Hearst as a sort of political Messiah. The other day a couple of hundred dwellers in the darkest East Side of New York left their beer and socialistic arguments long enough to carry a lot of red rags up and down the street and proclaim that Hearst was the hope of anarchy. It is openly said that if Hearst is elected the city is in danger of a reign of terror. The fear that he will be elected and that present conditions will be disturbed has driven thousands of republican business men to McClellan. Mr. Hearst is anxious to be elected Mayor of New York. He has surplus capital and thirsts for power. He is now a recognized menace to law and order, as he and his coadjutors are beckoning to a dangerous element who would rejoice to reproduce Russian scenes in New York. The waving of red flags in the interest of the young aspirant to political honors will naturally drive all thoughtful people from his camp.

A CONDITION of anarchy throughout Russia continues. The authorities are unable to control the situation and are able to disperse mobs only by firing into and trampling upon them. The lawless element has taken to murdering and robbing the Jews and a general massacre is feared. In many instances the mobs have made demonstrations before the prisons demanding the liberation of political prisoners and their demands were generally complied with. Warsaw was the scene of many bloody conflicts last night between the troops and the mob and many were killed and wounded. At Odessa the Cossacks were especially brutal to the students, who were stirring up the mobs with their incendiary speeches. At night the mobs took possession of the principal streets and looted the stores. It is evident now that many people in Russia want anarchy no matter what concessions the Czar may make. He has surrendered his autocracy at the clamors of his subjects, but this does not suffice. Russia has been suffering from revolution fever, and it looks as though it must run its course.

THE monthly statement of the government receipts and expenditures shows that for October, 1905, the total receipts were $50,492,691, and the expenditures, $55,710,037, leaving a deficit for the month of $5,217,846. For October, 1904, the deficit was $4,000,000. For the first four months of the present year the deficit was $14,992,000. This does not look much like the fulfillment of the republican promises that the general government receipts and expenditures would adjust themselves.

From Washington.

(Correspondence of the Alexandria Gazette.)

From open work piano boxes to leather bound cases of minute dimension, the warehouse of the Georgetown custom office contains an assortment of 24 packages addressed to "Miss Roosevelt." This consignment represents the dutiable gifts acquired by the President's daughter during her long eastern tour. Packed away awaiting appraisement, the collector, H. S. Nyman, and his assistants will safeguard the gifts until Miss Roosevelt makes the formal entry of the goods, and applies for proper assessment of their value. Then the stuff will be cleared and sent to the White House, or anywhere else the young owner wants to keep the souvenirs of her oriental journey.

George E. Green, of Binghamton, N. Y., former State Senator in New York, appeared before the federal court here this morning and gave bond in the sum of $10,000, with Frederick C. Stevens, president of the Commercial National Bank, of this city, as surety, to answer under the five indictments charging him with conspiracy and bribery in the Postoffice cases. The indictments allege that Green conspired with George W. Beavers, former chief of the salaries and allowances division of the Postoffice Department, to defraud the government in connection with the sale to the department of a device known as the Bundy time recorder.

President Roosevelt had an hour's conference over railroad rate legislation prospects this morning with Senators Dolliver, of Iowa, and Cullom, of Illinois. It is understood that both the Senators are in favor of adopting the provisions of the Esch-Townsend bill, which passed the House last session, as the basis for a railroad rate bill to be introduced in the Senate. Senator Dolliver, it is said, told the President that he would devote much of his energy this winter to the work and expressed the hope that a bill containing the Esch-Townsend provisions would be passed before the session ends.

W. W. Karr, who while disbursing officer of the Smithsonian Institution embezzled nearly $50,000, pleaded guilty in the Criminal Court today and was sentenced to five years in the Moundsville, (W. Va.) penitentiary.

The sub-committee which has been investigating the business methods of the Government Printing Office has completed its work and adjourned. It is probable that another meeting will be held before Congress convenes.

Since July 1 there have been 1,893 rural free delivery routes established by the Postoffice Department, bringing the total number up to 33,948. There are 4,335 petitions pending, 546 having been assigned for establishment prior to December 31.

For the past 24 hours the State Department has been besieged with inquiries concerning the reported massacre of five American missionaries of Lienchou, China, but up to 2 o'clock this afternoon no advices upon which the Department could base any authoritative statement had been received. Details of the tragedy are momentarily expected from the United States Consul General at Canton.

The Interstate Commerce Commission today granted a hearing to representatives of several railroads who are opposed to the proposed increase in the minimum percentage of cars equipped with power brakes. The minimum of air brakes now required on any train is 50 per cent. Chairman Knapp announced that the hearing today would be in the nature of an order to show cause why the minimum should not be increased to 75 per cent. after January 1, 1906. The hearing was attended not only by the opposing chiefs of many railroads, but by the chiefs of railroad brotherhoods as well. Superintendents of several systems pointed out some of the difficulties that obstruct the carrying out of the order contemplated by the commission. The principal difficulty, they said, consisted in the practical impossibility of replacing old with new cars on such short notice. He suggested that the contemplated order should not go into effect for a year.

Secretary Wilson, of the Agriculture Department, has given up the task of looking after the shortcomings of employees in his department. He has appointed a committee on personnel and to it has delegated the authority of inquiring into all complaints of misconduct on the part of any one in the service. The committee will report the facts and finding to the secretary for his action. The committee will be the means largely of enforcing the anti-graft rules which the secretary recently promulgated.

Peter H. Gouldman has been appointed postmaster at Peeds, Westmoreland county, Va., vice C. A. Mothershead, resigned.

Missionaries Murdered.

As has been stated in the Gazette, five American missionaries have, it is believed, been murdered at Lienchow, China. Dr. Eleanor Chestnut, Mrs. E. C. Machle and child and Mr. and Mrs. Pearle are the names of the victims. Mrs. Machle was the wife of Dr. Charles E. Machle, of Ohio. She was Miss Ella M. Wood, of Philadelphia. They had a daughter, Elsie, 15 years old. Dr. and Mrs. Machle have been stationed at Lienchow since 1889. During the Boxer outbreak several years ago Dr. Machle was captured, and would have been massacred had it not been that a mandarin, whose life had been saved by Dr. Machle, interceded for him and rescued him from the mob. Dr. Chestnut was well known in Chicago, having been sent out as a missionary by the Western branch of the Board of Foreign Missions of the Presbyterian Church. John Rogers Pearle was a new missionary who sailed from this country last August. He was born at New Bloomfield, Pa., in 1879. Reports from Canton says that the murder of the missionaries took place October 28.

News of the Day.

The belief is growing that Mrs. Margaretta Todd, a wealthy New York woman, who was found mutilated alongside the railroad track in Philadelphia last Friday, was lured to that city and murdered.

At the meeting of Methodist bishops in Washington this week, Bishop Foster was assigned to preside at the conference to be held in Baltimore on March 28, and Bishop Berry at Covington on March 14.

The monthly statement of the public debt shows that at he close of business October 31, 1905, the debt, less cash in the Treasury, amount to $1,002,646,125, which is an increase for the month of $6,068,116.

The wood-finishing department of the Mount Clare shops of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, at Pratt and Schroeder streets, Baltimore, was almost totally destroyed by fire last night, the damage being estimated at $110,000, which is said to be covered by insurance.

Rev. Dr. J. S. B. Hodges, the venerable rector of St. Paul's Episcopal Church, Baltimore, has resigned, to take effect on January 1, 1906. There will be a meeting of St. Paul's vestry today, at which the resignation will be officially accepted. The vestry will also elect him rector-emeritus of the congregation and confer a liberal salary upon him.

Hallowe'en proved serious in the residence of William Hood, in Chicago, Tuesday night. Cleveland Hood, a thirteen-year-old son, was shot in a game of "hold-up," by Frank Wright, a boy of the same age. Young Hood was shot just above the heart. He was taken to a hospital, where an operation was performed, and it was reported that the outcome was in doubt. The shooting was accidental.

After a bloody fight at Willard, a small town near Riverton, Ky., yesterday a posse of angry citizens put an end to the operations of a band of bank robbers known as the "nitro gang" that has raided bank after bank in the Obio River Valley. Four of the robbers are in jail—two unhurt, one mortally wounded, and one slightly wounded. Two others are fleeing for their lives.

Further light on the recent mysterious murder of Jacob H. Thompson, exchange editor of the New York Times, was obtained by the New York police yesterday. When Mamie Gibson, the negress who knew the colored bellboy, Richard Hannibal, who died Tuesday while under suspicion of committing the murder, was arraigned in court yesterday, she said that Hannibal told her that if she was ever questioned about the murder she must say that Hannibal spent the night of Thompson's death at her house. He was not there that night, the girl testified. She said that the bellboy told her that her that he did not murder Thompson, but that he ought to have been murdered because of the small tips he gave. The colored girl was arraigned in connection with Hannibal's death, as the bellboy was found with his throat cut after he had quarreled with her and wounded her recently.

Bones Recall Tragedy.

A grim tragedy of many years ago, one of the victims of which was the ancestor of a living jurist of the State of West Virginia, has just been recalled by the accidental discovery of a human skeleton in the mountains northwest of Winchester. Dr. John Bull a recluse, because of an unfortunate love affair, quarreled with his friend, Isaac Brannon, a revolutionary soldier, and ran him through with a sword.

Several weeks later Dr. Bull shot himself after extracting a promise from his slaves to bury him in a place selected by himself in the mountains and to keep the grave a secret. Here, on a lonely ridge, the body has lain until some boys, hunting, stumbled upon the place and the bones. Curiously enough, one of the boys was a grand nephew of Isaac Brannon.

A little further down the valley is the last resting place of the recluse's victim. Isaaac Brannon was the grandfather of Henry Brannon, of Weston, W. Va., who is at this time president of the Supreme Court of Appeals of the State of West Virginia. Miss Kate McVicar, an authoress and poetess, of Winchester, is a descendant of one of the participants in the tragedy, and she recalled the details of the story as they had been handed down in family history.

Black Day For Match Hunt.

A "black day" marked the opening near Upperville yesterday of the Grafton-Middlesex match between American and English foxhounds, for, on account of high winds and dry weather and consequent lack of scent, the hounds were unable to work. For two hours Coleworth, the huntsman of Mr. Higginson's Middlesex pack (English), labored strenuously with his 18½ couple to raise a fox, but at five minutes to 10 the attempt was abandoned and the party of 38 horsemen and horsewomen who had followed patiently began their long journey for home, some 12 miles away. Miss Dulany, of Grafton Hall, rode over a 4-foot barbed wire fence in taking an in-and-out jump across a road. Mr. Chamberlain, of Boston, fell at a ditch, and Paul Whiting, of Massachusetts, came a cropper over a stone wall. This morning Harry W. Smith, master of Grafton hounds, took out his American pack. The meet was at Leith Plantation.

In Cell of Condemned Woman.

Windsor, Vt., Nov. 2.—In the State prison investigation yesterday Vernon Rogers, the "trusty" whose name has been prominently mentioned in connection with conditions surrounding the imprisonment of Mrs. Mary A. Rogers, the condemned murderess, admitted that he had been in Mrs. Rogers' cell several times. He stated that Fred Morse, another "trusty," had made a key for him, with which he was able to open the outer lock of the cell door, and that Mrs. Rogers, by means of a pair of scissors, opened the inner fastening.

Letter to M. Carter.

Alexandria, Va.

Dear Sir: The handsome residence of Oliver Gildersleeve on Main street, Portland, Conn., was painted in 1888 with Devoe and again in 1901.

There's 13 years; there are hundreds of such; the difficulty is to hear of 'em.

Reminds of another. The Farrington residence, Rockland, Maine, was painted Devoe 21 years ago; the paint was in fair condition 5 years ago, when we saw it; don't know any more. Our agents there, Messrs. Farrand, Spear & Co., know. Enclose a stamp, if you write 'em.

Yours truly,
F W DEVOE & CO

Virginia News.

Virginia Military Institute cadets in a body struck at supper last night and made a rush for the Lexington grocery and confectionery stores.

Owing to the illness of Senator John W. Daniel, of Virginia, the democratic mass-meeting announced to be held at the Lyric in Baltimore, on Saturday night, may be abandoned.

Miss Susie Branch, daughter of Mrs. C. E. LeHew, was married yesterday at the Baptist Church in Front Royal, by Rev. Frank P. Berkley, of Buena Vista, to Mr. John W. Dalhouse, of Atlanta, Ga.

The case of W. W. Patterson, charged with criminally assaulting Miss Cora Crittenden, has been continued until the January term of the Henrico County Court. Patterson has been released on bail.

Fire yesterday destroyed the large barn, with 150 barrels of corn, a large quantity of feed and several pieces of farming implements, at "Altoona" farm, about two miles from Fredericksburg, in Spottsylvania county. The barn was built lately at a cost of $3,000. The barn was owned by Capt. M. B. Rowe, of Fredericksburg. It is the third fire of mysterious origin he has suffered within the past three months.

Messrs. Davis & Davis, Washington patent attorneys, report the grant, this week, to citizens of this State, of the following patents: John P. Birmingham, of Lychburg, automatic emergency air-brake-operating device for railways; Virginius X. Caracristi, of Granite, coal chute for locomotive; Booker Dalton, of Stuart, plow and cultivator; John E. Graham, of Salem, railway frog; Thomas H. Haynor of Norfolk, fertilizer distributor; Jefferson Jones, of Portsmouth, bed spring; George T. Joseph, of Covington, rail joint; Jacob T. Smith, of Dublin, nut lock; John Wickre, of Williamsburg, building block.

Mr. Slemp's Warning.

Republican Chairman Bascom Slemp is accused of playing the role of Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde. While, it is alleged, he demands 5 per cent. of the salaries of republican officeholders in the State, he is sending letters to the democrats reminding them that to be active in politics is in violation of civil service rules.

Mr. Wyndham B. Robertson, democrat, postmaster at Plasterco, Washington county, has received one of these interesting letters from Mr. Slemp, in which the latter quotes the Attorney-General of the United States as saying: "The spirit of the civil service law and rules renders it highly undersirable for federal officers and employees to take an active part in political conventions or any direction of other parts of political machinery, nor shall they make themselves unduly prominent in local political matters.

Mr. Robertson in his reply said: "I am responsible for my actions—political, public and private—and I deny your right as republican chairman or in any other capacity to give me any advice, even by intimation or otherwise."

Clarke's Dying Confession.

The following statement of T. Lee Clark, cashier of the Enterprise National Bank of Allegheny, Pa., written a few hours before he committed suicide, was made public last night:

Dearest Wife and Children:

In ten hours or less I will be in the other world. You have been a dear good wife to me. Andrews has worked my ruin. Dear wife, keep all the insurance for yourself and babies. How hard it is to leave you all. I have made a desperate effort to keep things going until I could get the road financed, but it has been too slow. The examiner is here and I am ruined. Do forgive me; it is not my fault. I have been shamefully robbed. The bank will get everything but the life insurance. Your husband, LEE.

THE POPULAR DRINK IN TEXAS

"I was in Texas last summer for the first time in twenty-six years, and the wonderful changes that have occurred since my early visit to the Lone Star State were indeed surprising," said Mr. T. A. Banister, of New York, at the Arlington, in Washington city, D. C. "When I went there, a beardless boy, there were still a number of the bad men and desperate characters whose deeds had given the State an unsavory reputation.

"Ben Thompson was then living in Austin, a man whose demeanor was of the mildest, save when he was in liquor, and who was credited with having put an end to the lives of no less than twenty-three men, not counting negroes and Mexicans. Thompson was the premier of revolver experts, and he could operate a pair of heavy six-shooters with deadly aim. He was killed in a variety theater in San Antonio by a gang of thugs, alleged to have been instigated to the deed by the partner of the former owner of the place, Jack Harris, whom Thompson had killed in the self same place about a year before. He died with his boots on.

"But what I started out to say was that Texas has got to be as tame as any of the old settled States, and that even the cowboys are now a mild-mannered lot of men, and think no more of riding their ponies into saloons and stores and shooting out the lights. One old citizen with whom I talked told me the philosophy of the change. He said that it was due to the substitution of beer for whisky. Thirty years ago there wasn't a brewery in Texas, and but little lager beer imported. The men drank red liquor to excess then and under its influence became wild and violent and ready to shoot at the drop of the hat. Nowadays, with beer the popular drink, the temper of the population has undergone a change, and tragedies, once so frequent, are of rare occurrence."

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that Contain Mercury, as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Today's Telegraphic News

ANARCHY IN RUSSIA.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 2.—In spite of all the military precautions, the democratic and revolutionary parties succeeded in holding a meeting and formulating their minimum demands. Secret ballot; manhood suffrage; complete abolition of the existing regime; abdication of the Czar and the establishment of a republic upon a socialistic basis are the demands. In St. Petersburg the government now apparently has the upper hand and gradually quiet is being restored. There is a general belief that the worst is over.

The first steps toward calling off the strike were taken today when the strike committee decided to bring the strike to an end tomorrow. It is believed that most of the workmen will obey the orders to return to their positions.

A manifesto issued by the Czar was posted in all the streets this afternoon calling on the people to support the government so that the new regime may be successfully inaugurated and explaining that if they fail to do this the responsibility for whatever may happen will rest on them and not on the government.

During last night patrols of Cossacks galloped up and down the principal thoroughfares in lines extending from curb to curb, scattering the crowds by the use of knouts and swords. A number of persons were injured while this work was going on and much bitterness has been caused by the affair. At this writing all is quite in the city.

Odessa, Nov. 2.—The desultory fighting which continued throughout the night was resumed again this morning. The rough element is forcing the fighting by attacking the Jews and the latter are defending themselves with the assistance of students.

The situation here remains serious in the extreme and fighting is being kept up. Revised estimates of the casualties in yesterday's street fighting give the killed at 500 and 1,500 wounded. The victims were mostly Jews and students, who died while trying to defend members of the hated Hebrew race.

Absolute anarchy reigns. Several hundred shops have been pillaged and the mob is uncontrolled. The authorities apparently have abdicated. General Kaulbers, the military commander of the Odessa district, is doing absolutely nothing to prevent the continuance of pillaging and street fighting.

The roughs have made their headquarters on the water front and the position accupied by them is piled with the loot taken in the former raids. The rioters are now engaged in going through the streets carrying off loads of spoil from the looted shops.

The streets are patrolled by Cossacks, but they are entirely indifferent to the work of pillage. They only laugh as the robbers pass by them, carrying carrying piles of stolen goods on their shoulders.

An estimate of the damage wrought by the mob places the figures at $5,000,000.

Serious outbreaks are reported to have occurred at Nicolaieff, Kherson, and Sevastopol.

The rejoicing here is tending toward a great orgy, and it is feared that this will culminate in the mobs again becoming rampant and making another attack on the Jews. If this occurs, the disorders will probably be greater than have occurred so far, when the drink-crazed crowds resume their pillaging.

Odessa, Nov. 2.—The military is beginning to act in suppressing the Hooligans who have run riot ever since yesterday, and the town is quieter as a result. Firing is still heard in the town at intervals, however.

Warsaw, Poland, Nov. 2.—Last night was given over to demonstrations by the people, which lasted until daybreak, and culminated in a clash with the troops in which there were many casualties. Throughout the night the people marched through the streets singing revolutionary songs and engaging in frequent demonstrations. They refused to obey the orders of the soldiers to disperse, and the latter fired into a great crowd. Thirty-five persons were killed by the volleys and 10 others were wounded. The citizens today are preparing a petition to be sent to Count Witte, praying him to secure the removal of Governor General Suallon who is held responsible in public estimation for the carnage.

Cossacks this afternoon fired on a crowd in the streets killing three persons, and wounding three.

With utter disregard for the orders of the authorities prohibiting street processions, thousands of workmen are now parading through the streets singing "God Save Poland," and carrying the Polish national flag. The greatest excitement continues to prevail.

Warsaw, Nov. 2.—The agitation in this city has progressed to the point where the revolutionaries are now demanding self government for Poland. This morning proclamations were issued by the socialists demanding that this concession shall be granted immediately. During the afternoon a number of officers of gendarmes and a company of gendarmes appeared at a meeting of employees of the Vistula railway, and asked permission to listen to the speeches being made, so that they might become acquainted with the situation. The request was agreed to with frantic cheering on the part of the railway workingmen.

Radom, Poland, Nov. 1.—The anti-Government demonstrations here culminated today in riots followed by a clash between the people and the troops in which there were many casualties. The crowds destroyed the telegraph poles and burned considerable government property. Barricades were erected in the streets and bombs were thrown at the troops. The soldiers fired on the people who returned the fire and there were many casualties on both sides.

London, Nov. 2.—The correspondent of the Evening Standard at Odessa wires to his paper that a great slaughter of the people was prevented during the demonstrations of last night, by the brave action of General Ruddneff, who risked his life to prevent the troops from firing into a great crowd. Great throngs of the people had collected outside the prisons demanding the release of the prisoners. After the police had emptied their revolvers into the crowd in an attempt to disperse the gathering, troops suddenly appeared with their guns leveled ready to fire. At that moment General Ruddneff, wearing his uniform, threw himself in front of the leveled rifles, and dared the soldiers to fire. The effect of this action was remarkable, and the volley was not fired.

The correspondent of the Evening News at Nikolaieff, Russia, in a dispatch to his paper wires: "Civil war is raging here. Scores have been killed and wounded. Over 200 bombs have been thrown, and the town is an inferno of death and tumult. All the shops have been destroyed, after being looted by the criminal classes. The respectable classes are at the mercy of the mob, which, it is believed, has been instigated by the police. Many houses have been broken into and the offices of the radical journal, The Southern Review, were sacked. Firing is continuing incessantly, and ambulances filled with the killed, wounded and multilated are passing constantly."

A dispatch to the Central News from St. Petersburg says that serious disorders occurred at Moscow, today, where street fighting occurred between nationalists and socialists.

Wedding.

Bosotn, Nov. 2.—The marriage of Miss Grace L. Taylor, daughter of General and Mrs. Charles H. Taylor, to Mr. Matthew C. Armstrong, of Hampton, Va., took place yesterday at the home of the bride's parents, 333 Beacon street. Only relatives of the bride and groom were present, invitations to a church wedding, which had been planned, having been necessarily recalled owing to the recent sudden death of the father of the groom. Mrs. Horace Pillsbury, of San Francisco, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. The bridesmaids were Miss Dorothy Armstrong, of Hampton, Va., sister of the groom; Miss Belle Fabyan, of Brookline; Miss Cornelia Van Ness, and Miss Marion Jordan, of this city. Mr. Richard Armstrong, brother, of the groom, was best man. The ushers were Mr. J. A. Massie and and Mr. Lewis Hefflfinger, both of Hampton, Va.; L. A. Morgan and Gerald Morgan of New York city; Charles H. Taylor, jr., William O. Taylor and John C. Taylor, brothers of the bride, and Dr. Marshall Fabyan, all of Boston.

Sultan Withdraws Assurance.

Paris, Nov. 2.—Advices received today state that the Sultan of Turkey has withdrawn the assurance, given verbally a few days ago to the ambassadors of the European powers, that he would consent to the plans for international control of the finances of Macedonia. Consequently the belief prevails in official circles here that an international naval demonstration is imminent.

Constantinople, Nov. 2.—The porte is preparing a note to the powers proposing a compromise plan for the reform of Macedonian finances, to be substituted for the scheme of international control suggested by them.

London Financiers Alarmed.

London, Nov. 2.—Financiers are greatly worried over the Russian situation and the gravest fears are entertained that unless quiet is restored soon, a panic may develop in Paris which would affect the money markets of the world. France is now the largest holder of South African securities, and if there is a general rush on the part of the French financiers to unload "Kaffirs" on the market, this would knock the bottom out of the London exchange and cause a wave of depreciation to sweep over all markets, which would necessitate concerted action on the part of the financiers all over the world to stop.

Rear-end Collision.

Wilmington, Del., Nov. 2.—There was a rear end collision this forenoon between passenger train No. 221 and extra freight train No. 225, of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad, at Elsmore. Engineer J. C. Ryan had his leg broken by jumping off the passenger engine, and Conductor Cooper was seriously injured. Many passengers were slightly injured, and the passenger engine and four freight cars were badly damaged. The collision took place on the Landenburg Branch, so that regular traffic on the main line was soon resumed.

Finland Practically Independent.

Helsingfors, Finland, Nov. 2.—Finland today is practically independent. Advices received from all parts of the country state that citizens' committees are in control of the government. Affairs are being conducted quietly, and no reports have been received from any section of mobs breaking loose. The soldiers have adopted a friendly attitude toward the people. In some cases they have even loaned their guns to the citizen militia which has been organized.

Missionary Station Attacked.

New York, Nov. 2.—At the headquarters of the Board of Foreign Missions of the Presbyterian Church here today the Rev. Dr. Arthur J. Brown, secretary of the board, said that he had just received the following cablegram from Canton, Chins, in reply to an inquiry which he sent to that town yesterday. "Lienchou station has been attacked, and Mrs. Machle, Amy, Mr. Peale, Mrs. Peale, Chefinu killed. Dr. Machle, Patterson Safe Building destroyed."

Bear Chases Him a Mile.

Altoona, Pa., Nov. 2.—J. S. Casebeer, custodian of the summer cottages at Wopsononock, had a race down the mountain while driving to Altoona yesterday to elude a large bear, which followed him for over a mile. Casebeer, being unarmed and fearing an attack, managed to keep the bear off until he reached the foot of the hill, when he whipped up his horse and escaped.

Body Found in River.

Paris, Nov. 2.—The body of Ismael Nemos, the noted anarchist, was found floating in the Ouvez river near Privas, today, with the head split open. The circumstances surrounding the death are shrouded in mystery. Nemos was a follower of Louise Michel and an advocate of her doctrines.

Nearly Three to One on McClellan.

New York, Nov. 2.—On the curb in Wall street this morning offers of $2,800 to $1,000 were made that McClellan would be elected mayor next Tuesday, but there were no takers. Fifty dollars to two hundred dollars was offered that Hearst will not carry a borough.

The Appellate division of the New York Supreme Court this afternoon sustained the decision of Justice Stover, debarring Jerome from the republican ticket.

New York Stock Market.

New York, Nov. 2.—There was a better general tone all around the stock market today, with large buying orders and special purchases in a number of stocks. The incentive to the trading was chiefly the belief that affairs in Russia, both financially and politically, will soon adjust themselves to the new conditions. The room traders and ware houses sold a few stocks around the room, and at times caused fractional recessions, but there was nothing significant to the selling of any of the leading stocks.

TELEGRAPHIC BREVITIES.

So great is the danger of transmitting disease by telephone mouthpieces that the British General Electric Company has abolished the mouthpiece on its instruments in the British Isles.

Cracksmen, believed to be the same gang that has so successfully operated in Indiana almost nightly during the past two weeks, blew open the safe of the bank at Sanborn, seventeen miles north of Washington, Ind., and got ago away with $4,000. Nitro glycerine was used in blowing the safe.

For the first time since it was reported from Rome that she had renounced the Catholic faith and again had become a Protestant, the Marquise des Monstiers Merinville, formerly Miss Mary Gwendolen Caldwell, is in this country, having arrived in New York yesterday.

Burglars blew open the safe in the postoffice at West Stockbridge, Mass., early this morning, and secured about $100 in cash and stamps. This is the seventh time the postoffice has been burglarized since October 17, 1904.

A dispatch from Glens Falls, N. Y., says that Herben King, aged 24, secretary to George Foster Peabody, of New York, was drowned last evening in Lake George by the overturning of a canoe.

A dispatch from Milwaukee, Wis., says that the Goodrich passenger steamer Iowa, is reported ashore at North Point. The steamer Appomattox and Consort are on the rocks at Fox Point.

Earl Minto, who has been appointed Viceroy of India to succeed Lord Curzon, left London today, accompanied by his family for Marseilles. From Marseilles he will take a ship for India.

The bank at Sulphur, Ky., was robbed last night of an amount said to be $30,000.

The Exact Thing Required for Constipation.

"As a certain purgative and stomach purifier Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets seem to be the exact thing required, strong enough for the most robust, yet mild enough and safe for children and without that terrible griping so common to most purgatives," say R. S. Webster & Co., Udora, Ontario, Canada. For sale by Gibson & Timberman and W. F. Creighton & Co.

Every Ounce You Eat.

Every ounce of food you eat that fails to digest does a pound of harm. It turns the entire meal into poison. This not only deprives the blood of the necessary tissue-building material, but it poisons it. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure is a perfect digestant. It digests the food regardless of the condition of the stomach. It allows that organ to rest and get strong again. Relieves Belching, Heart Burn, Sour Stomach, Indigestion, Palpitation of the Heart, etc. Sold by W. F. Creighton & Co., 401 King street.

The Nelson-La Fontaine Case.

John C. Nelson and James La Fontaine, against whom indictments were returned last week in the Circuit Court for the county, charging them with violating the gambling laws of Virginia, were given a hearing yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock before Justice of the Peace J. E. Supplee in the Mount Vernon avenue school house, in Jefferson district. Justice J. R. Hagan sat as associate justice in the case. The defendants were represented by Attorneys Harlow and Brumback and Commonwealth's Attorney Crandall Mackey conducted the prosecution.

Detectives Cox and Johnson, of Washington, were the witnesses for the prosecution. They testified that on the 13th of last October they had visited the place conducted by Nelson and La Fontaine and had bet on races. One of the detectives had won and the other had lost. They said that they saw the two defendants engaged in the business. The court imposed the maximum penalty—$500 fine on each, together with three months imprisonment in jail. An appeal was taken to the Circuit Court for the county and the case will come up at the December term.

These cases are separate and distinct from those which were recently taken into the United States court before Judge Waddill by counsel for Nelson and La Fontaine, upon habeas corpus proceedings in which an attempt was made to have the federal court interpose, on the ground that Alexandria county is not a part of Virginia, but belongs to the District of Columbia. As before stated, Judge Waddill ruled against their petition, allowing them, under the order which was entered, until Tuesday at noon for obtaining an appeal.

While holding the special term of court in this city, which was adjourned Tuesday afternoon, Judge Waddill was again applied to by counsel for the defendants for an order allowing an appeal, but he declined to grant the petition. Up to the time indicated the court had received no notice of any appeal or stay of any kind having been allowed by the Supreme Court of the United States, and so far as the court was informed no further move had been taken in the case. As stated in the Gazette of that day no application was made to the Supreme Court for an appeal from the decision of Judge Waddill. This probably means the termination of the efforts to place the cases in the United States courts.

The final order entered by Judge Waddill in the case had the force of remanding Nelson and La Fontaine to the custody of Sheriff Palmer at noon Tuesday, but this was not done, for the reason that the defendants had been released on bail allowed by Judge Nicol after they had been sentenced in the magistrate's court.

Accident to Ferry Steamer.

The new ferry steamer Woodbury on her way to Washington yesterday afternoon had one of her rudders damaged by colliding with a submerged log, and it was found necessary to take the steamer off the route temporarily. It was at first thought that it would be necessary to send the steamer to Baltimore for repairs, but upon closer examination it was seen that the damage was comparatively slight and that repairs could be made in this city.

The Woodbury resumed her place on the route at 3 o'clock this afternoon.

An attache of the Harlan & Hollingsworth Company in Wilmington is on the boat supervising the minor work to be done to the steamer. It seems that some of the machinery is not yet in perfect running order, as is generally the case with new work. The reverse bar, for instance, which was the cause of minor accidents in entering the slips is hard to move. These things, however, were remedied, and everything will soon be working satisfactorily.

Shipyard Notes.

The work of overhauling the United States army quartermaster's tug Lieut. Alonzo H. Cushing, the new tender to Fort Washington and Fort Hunt artillery stations on the Potomac below this city, is now rapidly approaching completion under the supervision of the contractors, J. & H. Aitcheson, and the vessel will be ready to return to service within the next two or three days. The Cushing is lying at the wharf foot of Prince street, and her engine and machinery, hull and house have been put in the best of order to fit her for service on the route between this city and the Potomac forts during the coming winter. When the Cushing returns to service, it is stated that the tug Gibbon, which has been running on the river between the forts and this city for the past two or three years, will leave for an army post on the south Atlantic coast.

Narrow Escape.

While returning to his home on Seminary Hill Monday evening Rev. S. A. Wallis met with a narrow escape. His horse became frightened by an electric car near Spring Park and backed into the ditch near the track. The vehicle was damaged, but the occupant was unhurt. The road at that point is dangerously narrow on both sides of the track, but it could be easily improved by a covered sewer pipe, thus making a wider road and removing the filthy condition of the ditch at that end of the town. It is hoped some action will be taken in regard to this matter, as several accidents have occurred at that point recently.

Police Court.

[Justice H. B. Caton presiding.]

The following cases were disposed of this morning.

A white boy, arrested by Conductor Morris charged with trespassing upon an electric train, was dismissed with an admonition.

Ferdinand Patton, arrested by Officer Garvey charged with drunken and indecent conduct, was sent to jail for five days.

Mit Slog, arrested by officer Garvey charged with drunken and disorderly coduct, was dismissed with a reprimand.

A new supplement to the catalogue of the library has been printed and can be bought at the Library for five cents.

Mrs. Lee in Baltimore.

Mrs. William Henry Fitzhugh Lee, of Ravensworth, Fairfax county, widow of Gen. W. H. F. Lee, the Confederate cavalry commander, better known as "Rooney" Lee, is stopping at the Sherwood. From Baltimore she will go to New York to meet her sister-in-law, Miss Mary Lee, who has been traveling abroad. Gen. W. H. F. Lee was a son of Gen. Robert E. Lee, the great southern leader. He was a gallant cavalry commander during the war, and at one time, while wounded and a prisoner in the hands of the northern troops, was ordered to be hanged in retaliation for two union captains, who were ordered hanged by the Confederate authorities for the hanging of two Confederate officers by General Pope. The union officers were not hanged and General Lee was afterward exchanged for Gen. Neal Dow. Ravensworth is one of the finest estates in Virginia and is still kept up with all the elegance of ante-bellum days.—[Baltimore Sun.

Idle Youths.

Apart from the number of blacks and whites in the community who refuse to work, it is noticeable that it is no easy matter to employ boys at remunerative wages. A citizen told a representative of the Gazette this morning that he had been endeavoring to procure a boy—white or black—and had offered $3.50 a week for a suitable one. He approached several groups — especially on King street — where numbers congregate for the purpose of acting as guides to strangers, but was unable to induce one to accompany him. There are others who idle their time away, loafing about corners, and who have not enough energy to attend school or act as guides.

Sewer Outlet.

A big boat with a dozen men aboard it has been moored a short distance above the United States naval powder magazines above this city for the past day or two, making soundings from the shore out to the channel, and it is stated the work is being done for the purpose of ascertaining the exact depth of the water and the nature of the bottom for use of the engineers in charge of the construction of the big sewer which will run from Washington and will have its outlet into the Potomac at the point where the soundings are being made.

The Hunting Season.

Yesterday, November 1st, ushered in the hunting season. From now until February 1 in Virginia east of the Blue Ridge mountains, partridges may be killed without violation of the State game laws. Not only is this the beginning of the partridge season in Virginia but also it begins the days for pheasants, woodcock and wild turkeys. The rabbits will also come in for a great deal of attention in many counties, for the game law does not protect them any longer in the northern sections of the State.

Steamer Withdrawn.

The placing of the new ferry steamer Woodbury on the route between this city and Washington has caused the withdrawal of the little steamer Runaway from the ferry route between this city and the Washington navy yard. The Runaway made two trips a day from this city for the accomodation of Alexandria mechanics who work in the Washington navy yard.

Knocked Assailant Down.

Mr. W. W. West, ticket agent of the Washington-Southern Railway, was accosted by a strange negro a short distance east of the new union depot early last night. He attempted to rob Mr. Wirt, but the latter picked up a stone and knocked the highwayman down. The man soon regained his feet and escaped in the darkness.

Democratic Meeting.

As stated yesterday, Senator Martin and other speakers will address the citizens of Alexandria at the Opera House tomorow night. The city democratic committee, with Mr. Charles Bendheim as chairman, is making all necessary arrangements for the occasion and a large crowd is expected to be present.

No Poison in Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

From Napier, New Zealand, Herald: Two years ago the Pharmacy Board of New South Wales, Australia, had an analysis made of all the cough medicines that they declared were entirely free from all poisons. This exception was Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, made by the Chamberlain Medicine Company, Des Moines, Iowa, U. S. A. The absence of all narcotics makes this remedy the safest and best that can be had; and it is with a feeling of security that any mother can give it to her little ones. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is especially recommended by its makers for coughs, colds, croup and whooping cough. When taken in time it prevents pneumonia. This remedy is for sale by Gibson & Timberman and W. F. Creighton & Co.

The Market.

Georgetown, Nov. 2.—Wheat 65a82.

Police Commissioners.

A meeting of the Police Commissioners was held last night. The unfinished business of the last meeting, that of the charge against Officer Allen, was taken up and a general discussion followed. This ended in an order being issued dismissing Allen from the force for violating section 5 of the police rules and regulations, which forbid a police officer from drinking in a saloon while on duty. The other business transacted was only of a routine nature.

It is rumored on the streets that Mr. Allen will take an appeal to the Corporation Court on the ground that he was not present when the last trial took place.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

The weather was cold again last night and ice formed.

A marriage license was issued in Washington yesterday to Samuel F. Kenner, of Riverton, and Emma Miller, of Overall.

A sailboat containing two young men capsized off this city yesterday. The occupants were rescued and the boat towed ashore by parties who went to their relief.

Sheldon R. Van Houton, assistant keeper of the light station at Mathias Point, on the Potomac river, has been relieved from duty there and sent to the Lazaretto station in Baltimore harbor, as assistant keeper.

In the explosion in the electric power house in Washington yesterday Paul Williams, colored, living in this city, had a narrow escape. He was in the basement of the building, but managed to gain the street without material injury.

Doctor and Mrs. Randolph Eliot, of Washington, announce the engagement of their daughter, Jessie Eugenia, to Mr. Charles N. Thompson, of Hamilton, Loudoun county. Mr. Thompson is principal of the Jefferson School, at Washington.

Complaint having been made to the Mayor that lights placed on obstructions in the street to warn pedestrians or drivers of vehicles of danger have been removed, stolen or broken, that official has notified the police to keep a sharp look out for the offenders and arrrest the first one seen. The police justice will do the rest.

It is rumored that Col. G. W. Anderson, of the Seventieth Virginia Regiment, to which the A. L. I. belongs, has resigned, and that in all probability Major Stanley W. Martin, of Danville, will succeed him.

The work of laying the line of water mains from Duke street entended to the new depot at the western outskirts of the city is being pushed rapidly to completion,

During the month of October the clerk of the Corporation Court recorded 48 deeds and issued 40 marrage licenses—35 to white and 5 to colored persons.

The temperature of last night was the lowest of the season, the mercury dropping to 30°. Ice formed in exposed places.

The Fire Wardens will meet at the Reliance engine house at 7.30 o'clock tonight.

The Circuit Court for the city, Judge Nicol, will begin its fall term on Monday.

C. A. Shaffer & Co. will have at Stall No. 2, southeast corner of Royal street wing of the market, Saturday, chrysanthemums, carnations and bunch flowers; also hardy ferns for fern dishes; palms and ferns at prices to suit everybody.

Saved by Dynamite.

Sometimes, a flaming city is saved by dynamiting a space that the fire can't cross. Sometimes, a cough hangs on so long, you feel as if nothing but dynamite would cure it. Z. T. Gray, of Calhoun, Ga., writes: "My wife had a very aggravated cough, which kept her awake nights. Two physicians could not help her; so she took Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, which eased her cough, gave her sleep, and finally cured her." Strictly scientific cure for bronchitis and La Grippe. At E. S. Leadbeater & Sons' drug store, price 50c and $1.00; guaranteed. Trial bottle free.

A Story of Ole Bull.

Few tales are told which are finer than that of the encounter in earlier years with the old Bernadotte himself. The king had referred to the Norwegians as "my Poles," at which Ole Bull, drawing himself up, inquired, "When has a Norwegian shown himself disloyal to the king?" Then, without waiting for an answer, he announced that he must at once take leave. Upon this the king turned to him with an imperious "I command you to stay!" But the violinist shrugged his shoulders and replied, "Then I will see, sire, whether a Norwegian remains free in the palace of the king of Sweden." At this, as Ole Bull would tell when recounting the scene, there came into the face of the monarch the most winning smile he had ever seen on a human countenance, and, putting out his hand impulsively, Bernadotte exclaimed: "Nay, I beg you to remain. A prince should hear the opinions of all his people." And the talk which then resulted was the basis of deep confidence on both sides.—Century.

A Case of Want.

A prison visitor recently asked one of the prisoners how he came to be there.

"Want," was the answer.

"How was that, pray?"

"Well, I wanted another man's watch. He wasn't willing I should have it, and the judge wants me to stay here five years."

Not Too Hard.

"Rather hard to lose your daughter, eh?" said the guest at the wedding.

"No," replied the bride's father. "It did look as if it were going to be hard at one time, but she finally landed this fellow just as we were giving up all hope."—Philadelphia Ledger.

"Why does a woman always add a postscript to her letter?"

"Well," answered the ungallant wretch, "she probably figures out in her own mind what her letter has made you say and then tries to have the last word."—Washington Star.

Two-Toned Fancy Suitings.

At 50c, the yard, instead of 75c.

Suitable for general wear and especially desirable for street suits. 45 inches wide.

50c. the yard. A regular 75c. quality.

Imported Printed French Flannelette

At 19c. the yard, instead of 37 1-2c.

The patterns are handsome Persian stripes and figures on tinted grounds; suitable for kimonos, dressing sacques and wrappers. As there are only 300 yards of this an early selection is suggested.

Nubian Fast Black Percalines

At 19c. the yard, instead of 25c.

This is the quality we sell for twenty-five cents, but it is not finished quite as soft as usually, hence the special price.

19-inch Royal Taffetas.

At 59c. the yard.

This material is all silk and will wear well. Desirable for waists, skirts, linings, etc. Shown in a variety of colors.

Second floor, G st.

Women's New Trimmed Hats

They are tastefully trimmed with velvet and wings, etc., and are suitable for walking, driving and general wear.

$5.00 for choice. Usually $7.00 and $8.00.

Also a new line of Untrimmed Felt Hats, just received, in colors and black; all the desirable shapes; fine quality of felt. $1.50 each.

Also a new line of Children's Practical Hats, sailors and Continental shape, brown, blue and red, trimmed with cord or pompons.

$1.00 to $2.50 each.

Second floor, Tenth st.

Tomorrow, Friday, Is

REMNANT DAY.

Since our business grows more brisk as the season advances, the remnants grow more numerous. It is our thought, always, to keep our stocks fresh and as free from imperfect goods, odds and ends, and incomplete assortments as possible. In order to do this all such things are marked at greatly reduced prices and put on sale once a week—Friday.

Our business in silk and dress goods departments increases each day, and many pieces have been sold out with the exception of six or seven yards, and sometimes two or three. Any woman who desires to obtain a fall dress for herself or child at a very moderate price would do well to inspect these goods.

There are not only remnants in these particular departments, but remnants in all departments which are quite as important—such as Linens, Upholstery, Rugs, Women's and Children's Ready-to-wear Clothing, Men's Furnishings, Traveling and Sporting Goods, Furniture, Housekeeping Supplies, Housefurnishings, &c. There are bargains all over the house.

Dean Swift's Dinner.

A characteristic story is told of Dean Swift, who after a series of expensive entertainments in London invited six of his hosts to dinner. They arrived, expecting the usual costly surfeit of good things. They found the table laid with a piece of bread, a bottle of wine, a plate at each cover and a waiter behind each chair. They took their places.

"Mr. Dean," said the lord chancellor, "we fail to see the joke."

Swift lifted his plate. Underneath were the bill of fare of a neighboring cafe and a half crown. He turned to the waiter at his side and gave him the money. "Here," he said, "bring me the worth of that in goose and potatoes."

The guests each sent the money under his plate for whatever dish he chose, and the dinner was eaten and enjoyed.

Swift then laid upon the table £100 and, deducting the three crowns which had been spent, said: "The remainder—the crumbs and fragments—is to go to the poor. We all have had enough money to satisfy hunger. You shall advise me how the rest is to be spent."

The Rope of Ocnus.

"The Rope of Ocnus" is the name of a famous picture painted by Polygnotus, a Greek artist, who died about 426 B. C. He was the first who gave life, character and expression to pictures. According to Pliny, he opened the mouth and showed the teeth of his figures and was the first to paint women with transparent draperies and rich headdresses. The picture represents Ocnus as a poor man, weaving a rope of straw, while behind him stands an ass consuming the other end of the rope. The silent lesson thus conveyed is said to have had a wholesome effect upon the wife of Ocnus, whose extravagance had been his ruin, so that she became frugal and thrifty and helped him to rise from penury to great prosperity. The phrase "like the rope of Ocnus" signifies profitless labor.

Sweet Potato Coffee.

If coffee is suspected of being harmful to the nerves it is the part of wisdom not to drink it. Most substitutes are unspeakable concoctions. During the war sweet potato coffee was brought to a rare perfection and is said to be a very palatable beverage. Good Housekeeping furnishes an old war recipe: Pare the potatoes, cut them in small dice and let dry for a day or two. Parch like coffee, grind and put away in a cool, dark place. Mixed with one-third real coffee, the potato coffee was much liked, and even when used alone it was said to be very good. The weak nerved might try this substitute with the certainty that they are getting a drink that is at least unobjectionable.

A Trick of Sex.

A man seated closes his knees to catch an object thrown on his lap. A woman in similar circumstances opens hers. This is a fact that Mark Twain used in "Huckleberry Finn." Huck is disguised as a girl, and a woman throws an object into his lap. Though he wears a skirt, he hasn't sense enough to spread his knees apart so as to catch the object better—he claps them together, as a trousered man would do. An English novelist in a book called "The White Rose" uses the same idea. Pierre de Coldirodi, the Italian romancer, uses it in his well known "Maidens and Love." The Frenchman Henri Paul uses it in his "Widows' Tears."

Making It Pleasant.

"That's what I call a good dinner," remarked Bobby as he leaned back in his chair with an air of repletion.

"Bobby," said his mother, "I'm ashamed of your saying such a thing."

The visitor who was dining with the family laughed heartily. "Bobby appreciates the good things of life," he said, "like all the rest of us."

"Don't you think it was a good dinner?" Bobby asked the visitor.

"Yes, indeed," the latter replied, with a smile. "I enjoyed it thoroughly."

"Mother said she thought you would, because she didn't suppose you got very much at home."

Starfish.

Starfishes commit suicide. When one is caught in a net it dissolves its corporation into a dozen or so of fragments, and the pieces escape through the meshes. In time each becomes a perfect animal. To preserve the starfish whole it must be plunged into a bucket of fresh water before it has time to take the alarm. Fresh water is instant death to it, and thus only can some varieties of the starfish be preserved.

A Creeping Death.

Blood poison creeps up towards the heart, causing death. J. E. Stearns, Belle Plaine, Minn., writes that a friend dreadfully injured his hand, which swelled up like blood poisoning. Bucklen's Arnica Salve drew out the poison, healed the wound, and saved his life. Best in the world for burns and sores. 25c at E. S. Leadbeater & Sons' drug store.

When you want a pleasant physic try Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. They are easy to take and produce no griping or no unpleasant effect. Sold by Gibson & Timberman and W. F. Creighton & Co.

FOR OVER SIXTY YEARS

AN OLD AND WELL-TRIED REMEDY.—Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup has been used for over sixty years by millions of mothers for their children while teething with perfect success. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, cures wind colic and is the best remedy for Diarrhœa. Is pleasant to the taste. Sold by druggists in every part of the world. Twenty-five cents a bottle. Its value is incalculable. Be sure and ask for Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup and take no other kind.

A Liquid Cold Cure.

A Cough Syrup which drives a cold out of the system by acting as a cathartic on the bowels is offered in Kennedy's Laxative Honey and Tar. Clears the throat, strengthens the lungs and bronchial tubes. The mother's friend and the children's favorite. Best for Croup, Whooping-Cough, etc. A liquid cold cure and the only Cough Syrup which moves the bowels and works all cold out of the system. Sold by W. F. Creighton & Co., 401 King street.

Nature Needs But Little.

Nature needs only a Little Early Riser now and then to keep the bowels clean, the liver active, and the system free from bile, headaches, constipation, etc. The famous little pills "Early Risers" are pleasant in effect and perfect in action. They never gripe or sicken, but tone and strengthen the liver and kidneys. Sold by W. F. Creighton & Co., 401 King street.
